
Serendipity

As she sips at her 5th Margarita, staring blind at the wall
She'd always been such a careful PC
But now her system made no sense at all
Then a shadowy stranger walked into the bar
As her thoughts were turning to God
The stranger noticed how unprotected she was
And said "Hi, my name is NOD"

Let me put my resources around you, let me take the pain away
I'll disinfect your system, your NOD32's here to stay

As the teardrops splashed down on her keyboard
She didn't know where to begin
But this handsome and nimble young AV guy
Knew here hard drive was there to win
She'd been treated so bad by her last boyfriend
Hadn't watched over her it was true
She could see this new guy was fully proactive
She felt sure about NOD32

Now NOD and his gal are joined at the hip
Nothing could tear them apart
All her friends wanna know where to find such a guy
To protect their digital hearts
